

B'NAI ISRAEL

Help B'nai Israel Support Masorti and Mercaz

This year, you can do your part to strengthen your family's connection to Israel.

Support the institutions of the Conservative Movement and sustain the Jewish soul!

MASORTI the congregational arm of the Conservative Movement in Israel, supports a pluralistic, egalitarian, and democratic vision for Judaism and Israel. The more than 70 Masorti congregations throughout Israel are a primary address for many of the religious and social needs of the 80% of the Israeli population who are not Orthodox. Unlike Orthodox congregations, Masorti's spiritual services, b'nai mitzvah programs, nursery schools, camps, youth groups, and social services receive no support from the Israeli government. Your contribution to Masorti is critical to help sustain a "third way" – not secular Judaism, not ultra-Orthodoxy.

There are two ways to contribute. Support the movement as a whole or contribute directly to our sister congregation, Ya'ar Ramot in Jerusalem. Contributors of $120 or more to Ya'ar Ramot will become overseas members of that congregation. We look forward to welcoming Rabbi Arnie Bender of Ya'ar Ramot to B'nai Israel on Tuesday evening, September 27.

MERCAZ is the Conservative Movement's party in the World Zionist Organization. Your membership in Mercaz enables the movement to secure millions of dollars of funding from the Jewish Agency for movement programs. Mercaz is one of the strongest voices in Israel on issues of Jewish pluralism.
